

DUBLIN RAIDED AND CORK ALSO

Tremendous Police and Military
Activities Throughout Ireland
During Day Are Reported

MORE MURDER DONE

Buildings Are Burned in Reprisal and Incessant Firing in Many Places Terrorizes Public

Dublin, Ireland, Nov. 22.—(By The Associated Press).—There has been tremendous police and military activities in all parts of the country today. Raids, searches and arrests have occurred in all directions. This evening the city of Dublin is surrounded and apparently is being combed by the military and the police. There was incessant firing early in the evening. A boy 16 years old and a man of 26 were shot.

There also was much firing in Cork tonight, but no fatalities have been reported. Raids by men in lorries were made at the Cork and Queens-town towns halls and the residences of the town clerks of these cities, many documents were seized. Thirty-six arrests were made at Queensstown.

Many Documents Seized.

Other places raided, included Fermoy, Carrick-on-Shannon, Galway, Lisdown and Clonmel. In nearly all these places documents belonging to the local councils were taken. At Galway, those taken into custody included Professor O'Brien and many students at the college. Some houses in the vicinity of Galway were burned. These included the residence of Mrs. Deila O'Connor, who recently returned to Ireland after a long residence in the United States. George Murnaghan, a well-known North Ireland solicitor and prominent as a Sinn Feiner, was arrested in Omagh.

Constable Ryan, who was kidnapped in Cork Sunday, has been released.

Communication with Ireland was seemingly interrupted last evening, but the latest advices declared that fires had broken out in various places in that city. Shooting began again in the streets just before midnight, and it was asserted a number of persons had been killed.

Yesterday's murderous outbreak in Dublin produced in this city a sensation comparable to that which followed the Easter rebellion in 1916. Recent confidential declarations by members of the British ministry to the effect that their policy was succeeding, that outrages were decreasing in number and that the authority of the law was becoming re-established, had been hopefully welcomed by the general public. The people today recalled with astonishment such phrases as were uttered a fortnight ago by Premier Lloyd George, who said, "Unless I am mistaken, we have murder by the throat."

Sunday's Tragic Events.

Whether Sunday's tragic events are to be regarded as disproof of such official utterances remains to be seen. Military authorities in Dublin are said to hold the view that the murder of the 14 army officers will prove the final outbreak of a nearly broken conspiracy—the last desperate throw of the fugitives who are known to have flocked to Dublin to escape the severity of the measures employed in the provinces to suppress Sinn Feinism.

There is no lack, however, of scornful inferences, and the fact that these fugitives have been able to enjoy freedom from arrest since having arrived in Dublin, and could have become accurately acquainted with the residences and habits of their victims, who, it is stated, were securing evidence to be submitted before the court martial which will try recently arrested Sinn Feiners, is regarded as furnishing significant ground for doubting the confidence supposedly held by officials. This morning's newspapers condemn the system followed in Ireland with great severity. Some demand sternest measures of repression and hint at the desirability of imposing martial law in Ireland.

Stand Against Reprisals.

These journals which have adopted a strong stand against reprisals and hold the government largely responsible for these attacks by the uniformed forces, take occasion to renew their insistence that reprisals must be stopped. The London "Times," for instance, while vehemently denouncing the murders of the officers, expresses belief that the strength of the Irish executive would be 10 times greater, in this emergency, than for an army. It is undoubtedly a policy and a police force are beyond control, which has been defied by heinous acts England's reputation.

Ministers responsible for the administration in Ireland were called to meet this morning to discuss the situation. Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, and Winston Spencer Churchill, secretary of state for war, who is responsible for the movements of the army in Ireland, were in constant telephonic communication with Dublin Sunday. The people of this city today eagerly awaited announcement of any steps to be taken in the presence of this new emergency.

More Troops in Ireland.

London, Nov. 22.—(By The Associated Press).—The sending of additional troops to Ireland is being seriously considered, it was stated at the war office this afternoon.

London was waiting anxiously and fearfully this morning for further news from Dublin, following the reports of yesterday's horrors, but up to this afternoon only meager dispatches had been received. Reports to the war office from Dublin, which were in hand by noon, said three or four unidentified persons had been killed in that city late last night. Several policemen had been killed in other parts of Ireland, the war office announced.

A brief telephonic message at 8 o'clock this morning had reported the city at least temporarily quiet. Then came a gap in the reports, up to the noon hour, but whether this indicated a censorship was not known.

Meager reports during the night stated that shooting was going on as a sequel to yesterday's assassinations and the subsequent clash between the military and a crowd at Croke park.

Sir Hamar Greenwood, the chief secretary for Ireland, was in conference during the morning with members of the cabinet in preparation for the expected bringing up in parliament today of yesterday's Irish happenings. Nationalist members, it was understood, were prepared to move an adjournment of the house in order to secure an opportunity for full debate on the situation.

Girls Take Active Part.

London, Nov. 22.—Girls played a prominent part in yesterday's scenes in Ireland, according to reports reaching London this afternoon. A motor car driven by a nurse, Linda Kerins, which was proceeding toward Dublin late Saturday night, was held up near Sligo and found to contain 10 rifles, four pistols and much ammunition.

Another report said the men who did the shooting Sunday morning evidently were strangers in Dublin and some of the squads were led to "spotted" houses by girls.

PRICE DEFLATION WAVE STILL HAS MUCH FORCE

Chicago, Nov. 22.—Feverish trading and new low record prices gave evidence today that the period of deflation had not yet spent its force in the grain market here.

Breadstuffs and feedstuffs alike touched the lowest level yet this season. More than five cents a bushel was slashed from the value of wheat within little more than a single hour. Cutting of prices on corn and oats was less spectacular.

Neither announcement of considerable export business nor of big decrease in the United States visible supply total sufficed to stop the selling stampede or to induce any adequate demand. As much as 11 cents a bushel less since Saturday was shown in the wheat market after midday, December touching $1.58. The close was flurried, 2 1/2 cents to 9 cents net lower, with December $1.60 to $1.60 1/2 and March $1.55 to $1.55 1/2.

BLONDE IS SOUGHT FOR PIERCE CRIME

Young Woman Is Believed to Have Fled in Companion's Car
After Killing Him

Philadelphia, Nov. 22.—Requests for the arrest of a blond woman, driving a big red automobile, were sent broadcast by the police tonight in connection with the killing of Henry T. Pierce, eastern manager of the Insley Manufacturing company, whose body, the head crushed with a wrench, was found today in the rear of his office in this city. The motor car is said to have belonged to Pierce and bore Pennsylvania license card No. 122-205.

Pierce, who was 45 years old, married and has five sons, was struck over the head several times with the wrench and the gas turned on in the room. The pockets of his clothing were turned inside out and all of his money and valuables were missing.

Pierce was seen to enter his office late Saturday night, accompanied by a young woman described as "young and a blond." There were evidences of a "riotous party," the police say, in the office where the body was found. A number of bottles and two glasses, one half filled with whiskey, were found on the table over which the body laid. The killing apparently occurred Saturday. The authorities stated.

The woman is described as about 21 years old, five feet two inches in height and plump. She wore a brown turban hat with a blue feather and a three-quarter length brown coat. The officials are working on the theory that she and her accomplice, after slaying and robbing Pierce, drove off in his automobile, a 12-cylinder boat-shaped car painted red.

NEW COURT RECORD.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Employees of the supreme court declared a new record today in receiving, considering and acting on a petition in less than 15 minutes, refusing to grant permission to apply to the court of claims for a writ of mandamus. Counsel asked immediate action in order that the papers might be served before the court of claims ended its current term. The supreme court took a 15-minute recess and announced its refusal.

FIND REFUGEES IN SAD PLIGHT

Men, Women and Children From the Crimea Are Herded Together
Promiscuously on Ships

MISERY IS GENERAL

Numerous Suicides of Desperate Refugees Going Insane During the Night, Are Reported

Constantinople, Turkey, Nov. 22.—(By The Associated Press).—The condition of the refugees aboard the 19 or more ships strung along the Bosphorus is appalling and a terrible catastrophe is feared unless the prompt measures are taken to land the thousands who are living in misery and pain. The correspondent visited several of these "floating hospitals" and mad houses today and returned to shore with forebodings of impending calamity. None of the refugees has as yet been taken ashore, excepting the sick, diseased and large numbers of insane.

Pledge Their All for Bread.

As the correspondent rode across the Bosphorus, an unpleasant smell from the ships was wafted to him despite a strong, cold sea breeze. An American relief officer, accompanied him. As soon as the pair boarded the ships the clothing of both was virtually torn off by half-maddened refugees who begged to be taken to land on the open hills which border the Bosphorus. Men, women and children, regardless of age or sex are herded together promiscuously on the ships day and night in a state of appalling filth and misery. Many women of distinguished demeanor and appearance, despite their bedraggled appearance offered to barter their valuables, jewels or furs for a crust of bread or a glass of water. In some cases the refugees have been without water for 11 days.

The correspondent heard that their had been numerous suicides of desperate refugees going insane during the night hours. They spoke of ghostly temptations and the sobbing call of the sea at night when they were dying with thirst. Many of the refugees were restrained from jumping overboard while many succeeded.

Fear Cannibalism May Develop.

The American navy is assisting in transporting sick women to hospitals and the Near East Relief also has been prominent in the work. War hardened relief nurses were moved to tears by maddened mothers offering their children to visitors and the scenes of separations have been beyond description.

The death rate has been abnormal as the result of the biting cold and the lack of food. The American Red Cross is offering 35,000 rations daily and several Americans are offering donations and subscriptions.

The French government, which is in full charge of the relief work, is incapable of dealing with the situation and is appealing to the Near East Relief, whose funds are limited. The fear was expressed by the ships' officers that cases of cannibalism would occur unless food supplies were received promptly. In many cases they had to fight off maddened men from slaying children, they declared. The American hospital in Istanbul is crowded and the American Red Cross is giving all its available medical supplies.

STUDENT STRIKERS RETURN TO SCHOOL

"Middies" at Naval Academy
Pledge Obedience to Regulations
at St. John's College

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 22.—The last of the striking students of St. John's college, who walked out of the institution last Monday, following an upheaval about hazing and other alleged grievances held by them, returned to their classes today. Two o'clock this afternoon was the time limit fixed by the mandate of the official board of directors for the strikers to return and sign a pledge to abide by the college regulations or else consider themselves expelled.

Annapolis, Md., Nov. 22.—Coincidental with the ending of the trouble at St. John's college today, the members of the first class of midshipmen at the naval academy, through the class president, have given a pledge to Superintendent Daniels that they will obey the regulations of the institution to the best of their ability.

Admiral Scates promptly took steps to lift the order segregating the members of the "pinks" or fourth class as a precaution against any further cases of hazing.

SMALLPOX INFESTS HAYTI.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Smallpox serum from the naval hospital here has been rushed to Hayti, Secretary Daniels announced tonight, because of the epidemic prevailing there. Rear Admiral Knapp cabled the department today that more than 500 cases of the disease had developed in Hayti thus far, but only one death, owing to the mildness of the type.

REFUSAL TO CARRY GERMAN MARKSMEN PREVENTS MEET

Vienna, Nov. 22.—The Social Democratic Railway men, who struck Thursday as a protest against the coming of 700 German marksmen to participate in the Tyrolean shooting tournament, called off their strike today, having succeeded in preventing the ride meet by refusing to transport the marksmen.

EXCUSE MRS. EDISON FROM JURY SERVICE

She Was to Have Been Foreman,
But Aged Inventor, Suffering
From a Cold, Needed Her

Newark, N. J., Nov. 22.—Thomas A. Edison has been excused from jury service because of it.

The wife of the inventor was scheduled to be foreman of Essex county's second feminine jury, which convened today. Her place was filled by Mrs. Edith Colby, wife of former United States Senator Everett Colby, after the judge had granted her request to be released so she might remain at home with Mr. Edison.

Objection to the "jury of this nature" as "improper" was made by counsel for the defense, who was accused of practicing dentistry without a license.

A woman was the first witness. She testified that she did not know how many teeth had been pulled from her jaws in three visits to the dentist, but she knew she had six left.

The jury returned a verdict of guilty within 14 minutes.

County Judge Dugan, in thanking the jurors, asserted that "you have sacrificed your household duties, and hereafter, if you present evidence you are being inconvenienced, I shall be obliged to excuse you from service."

DETAILS DOWNFALL OF WRANGEL'S ARMY

Over Confidence and Lack of Appreciation of Strength of Enemy
Forces Contributing Factors

Constantinople, Turkey, Nov. 22.—(By The Associated Press).—The story of the downfall of General Baron Wrangel's "white" army was given the correspondent today by one of Baron Wrangel's own officers who has just arrived here. General Wrangel's defeat was ascribed by the officer to the overconfidence of General Wrangel and lack of appreciation of the strength of enemy forces.

The operation across the Dnieper in October, the officer said, had shown the Bolshevik concentration to be more considerable than had been anticipated and this induced General Wrangel to give up his positions in Taurida and withdraw within the Crimean fortified positions, where he awaited the Bolshevik offensive complacently. The principal reason given by the officer for the success of the Bolsheviks was improvement in the railway system and the disposition of considerable Bolshevik reserves.

WOULD DIVORCE HAL CHASE

Association With Other Women,
Gambling and Dissipation Are Alleged by Mrs. Chase.

Cincinnati, Nov. 22.—Mrs. Anna M. Chase today, in this city, entered suit for divorce from Hal Chase, former first baseman of the Cincinnati and New York Nationals, now under indictment in Chicago in connection with alleged fixing of the 1919 world series.

Mrs. Chase in her petition states that they were married on May 27, 1917. She charges Chase with associating with other women, with spending money in gambling and dissipation. She says that she left him several times but always returned to him on his promise to do better. She says that he has given her one dollar since last March.

FINES FOUR HUNDRED CROOKS $25 AND COSTS; REST FREED

Chicago, Nov. 22.—Less than 300 of the 1,200 persons arrested yesterday in the raids on gambling houses, today in the hands of Judge John Richardson today disposed of the cases of 400 with a fine of $25 and costs as the maximum penalty, while several hundred were not even booked by the police. Judge Richardson fined only the persons charged with being keepers of gambling houses or disorderly places. The inmates were released the judge ruling in each case that there was not sufficient evidence to warrant a sentence.

HELD FOR ACTRESSES' DEATHS.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—A coroner's jury holding the inquest over the bodies of Marie Ramey and Lillian Thompson, actresses, found dead in Grant park a week ago, today recommended that Lawrence and Harris, the men charged with the deaths, be held for the grand jury. The four men were with the actresses on a "joy ride" which ended when the women were left in Grant park.

COOLIDGE LAUDS PILGRIM IDEALS

Hails Mayflower Pact as "Foundation of Liberty Based on Law and Order"

FLAYS ANARCHY

Vice President-Elect Is Dinner
Speaker at Anniversary of Mayflower Descendants

Boston, Nov. 22.—The Mayflower compact, signed 369 years ago, in the cabin of the Pilgrim ship was hailed as the "foundation of liberty based on law and order," establishing a tradition which "has been steadily upheld," in an address by Governor Coolidge, vice president-elect at a dinner given by the Society of Mayflower Descendants tonight in honor of its 25th anniversary and also of the compact's tercentenary.

"We may well take lessons these days from those sturdy, good, God-fearing men and women who landed on these shores 260 years ago," Governor Coolidge said. "They respected each others rights, lived according to law and were always obedient to constituted authority. When their memory fades, the glory of our nation will depart."

Governor Coolidge congratulated the society on its ancestry, remarking that "it is a privilege which I have not," "But my ancestors," he continued, "had to contend with the Pilgrims and from that contact they got something of that sturdiness of character which was theirs."

"It is a great privilege you have and enjoy, for from that event has flowed a great history—a history that has woven itself into the history of civilization."

"The compact which they signed was an event of the greatest importance; it was the foundation of liberty based on law and order; and that tradition has been steadily upheld. They drew up a form of government which has been designated as the first constitution of modern times. It was democratic, an acknowledgment of liberty under law and order and the giving to each person of the right to participate in the government, while they promised to be obedient to the laws, but the really wonderful thing was that they had the power and strength of character to abide by it and live by it from that day to this."

"Some governments are better than others. But any form of government is better than anarchy and any attempt to tear down government is an attempt to wreck civilization."

Vermon Authorities Are Investi- gating Attempt to Extort Money From Mrs. Maude LePlant

Morrisville, Vt., Nov. 22.—The authorities are investigating an attempt by unknown individuals to obtain money from Mrs. Maude LePlant of Hyde Park by kidnapping her 17-year-old son, Grover. The youth was found dazed and half frozen in a small building in a maple sugar orchard on Saturday night. On Saturday morning Mrs. LePlant found in a note nailed on her door demands for $500 and to leave it in the box for the payment of her son's return and saying that otherwise "his body will be disposed of."

After being revived, Grover LePlant said he had been in Richmond for a two weeks' visit and on his return last Friday he started to walk home from Hyde Park station, near the fair grounds in Morrisville, he said, three men in a closed automobile made him get into the car. He asserted they re- fused to let him out and when he tried to shut off the power he was struck on the head. He could not remember what happened after that.

ROB DOCTOR AND VISITORS OF $12,786 AND FLEE IN AUTO

Pittsburgh, Nov. 22.—Two masked men, armed with pistols, entered the office of Dr. Joseph Cramer, in the downtown section, late tonight and robbed the physician and three visitors of $12,786, according to a report issued by the police. Maurice Stein of Detroit, Mich., one of the visitors, was robbed of $12,500, police officials said.

The doctor and his three friends were seated in the office talking when the bandits entered. The robbers commanded them to throw up their hands and then tied their hands and feet. After securing the money, the bandits rushed from the office and escaped in an automobile.

KILLS CHILD AND SELF.

Manchester, N. H., Nov. 22.—Mrs. Mary Thomas today killed her five-year-old child and then ended her own life. The child was found dead in the kitchen. The mother was found in the bathroom. The police are investigating the case.

HARD FIGHT BY FAMILY SAVES BOY FROM EAGLE

Glendon, Wis., Nov. 22.—It took the combined efforts of the sprawling family today to save eight-year-old Walter Spalding from being carried away by a giant eagle at their ranch here.

When the huge bird attacked Walter in the ranch yard, he grasped it by the neck and screamed for help. John, his seven-year-old brother, came to the rescue and a third boy ran for help. Mrs. Spalding beat off the bird with a stick and the eagle attacked her. She was saved when Mr. Spalding came with a shot gun and dispatched the bird. It had a spread of eight feet. The two boys were severely lacerated by the eagle's claws.

DOUGHERTY NAMES HARDING ADVISORS

Conferences Relative to League of Nations Will Begin in Marion in December

Washington, Nov. 22.—Senators Reed of Missouri, Pomere of Ohio and Shields of Tennessee, all Democrats, are among those invited by President-elect Harding to confer with him on the League of Nations issue and other matters after his return from Panama, according to Harry M. Daugherty, Mr. Harding's pre-convention manager who was in Washington today. Others asked to offer suggestions to the President-elect, Mr. Daugherty said, include Senators Borah, Johnson of California, Lodge, Knox, Poindexter and Mr. Daugherty thought Herbert Hoover.

Informal conferences at Marion probably will begin about December. Mr. Daugherty said adding that no definite date had been set for anyone to go there.

"Some probably will go singly, while others may go in groups," he said. "There will be no prearranged schedule as to when different ones are to appear."

The President-elect plans to spend only a day in Washington after returning from Panama via Newport News and will go immediately to Marion, Mr. Daugherty announced. He said Mr. Harding expected to resign from the senate soon after January 1, when Governor-elect Davis of Ohio takes office. Mr. Daugherty predicted that Senator-elect Willis, a Republican, would be named to succeed Mr. Harding.

Questioned by newspapermen, Mr. Daugherty refused to discuss cabinet possibilities.

TRIM LITTLE CRAFT HAS EXCITING TRIP

Completion of 8,000 Mile Voyage
Across Atlantic and Return Is Made by 45 Foot Typhoon

New York, Nov. 22.—A thrilling tale of the fury of the sea, as viewed and fought from the deck of a 45-foot schooner, was told here tonight by Captain William Washburn Nutting, as he brought his trim little craft, the Typhoon, safely to a Staten Island mooring. He made fast a line and the vessel had completed an 8,000-mile voyage across the Atlantic and return.

In her long boat which started from Redhook, Nova Scotia, July 18, the Typhoon visited Cores, England, during the international Motor Boat regatta, proceeded to France and Spanish ports, left Coruna, Spain, on the return trip September 21. She stopped at the Azores enroute.

The Typhoon ran into numerous storms and several times, Captain Nutting said barely emerged safely. On one occasion, she ran into heavy cross seas and lost her mizenmast and the food supply. For three days the party lived on hardtack and water. A steamship was hailed and the latter replenished.

Two members of the party, Boy Scouts who went aboard in England, were washed overboard during a storm on the last leg of the voyage. After clinging to the trailing ropes and were saved.

STATE DEMOCRATS USED $39,187 HUGO IS TOLD

Albany, Nov. 22.—The Democratic state committee reported to Secretary of State Hugo today that it spent $39,187 in the recent campaign and that it had received $43,444.

The largest contribution was $11,000 from the personal campaign committee of Alfred E. Smith, the largest individual contribution, $4,000, was by W. S. Matthews.

Other contributors were James A. McGowan, $2,000; George R. VanNess, $1,000; and Dwight L. Davis, $1,000 each. Jesse J. Murphy, James A. Parsons, Charles E. Morris, Daniel Gleason, Edwin Corning and Jeremiah F. Connor, $500 each.

WOULD AID FARMERS.

Washington, Nov. 22.—Early passage of laws favoring cooperative marketing would be of considerable help to farmers, it was declared by the National Board of Farm Organization at a meeting today to discuss the plan for a farmers' conference to be held at St. Louis December 16.—Re-establishment of the war finance corporation would also furnish some relief, in the opinion of the board.

Urges Appeal to States.

Mr. Balfour said an appeal must be sent to the 41 states of the league for a united effort to save Armenia. Rene Viviani of France following Mr. Balfour, said all were agreed that compassion would no longer suffice for Armenia.

"It is not the fault of France if the league today is disarmed before the situation in Armenia is righted," said M. Viviani. Virtually the entire assembly applauded this statement. It was noted, however, that the British delegation did not applaud.

M. Viviani presented a resolution inviting the council to consult the powers with a view to the constitution of a force sufficient to put an end to the hostilities in Armenia.

Dr. Freidrich of Nansen, Norway, estimated that 60,000 men would be a force sufficient to deal with the situation. He thought that if the assembly appealed to the whole world, the United States, though it had refused the mandate, would do its share.

Delegate Jencu of Rumania supported M. Viviani's proposition and also thought the United States might be counted upon for help.

M. Viviani proposed that a committee select one power which would accept the responsibility of taking up negotiations.

Mr. Balfour wanted further light on the proposed negotiations.

He thought it would be very difficult to organize an expedition of 50,000 or 60,000 men.

"Can it negotiations or mediation," M. Viviani cried, "unless we make this minimum of effort we have only to register our failure and continue our academic discussions while the Armenians perish."

The whole assembly was on its feet, with the exception of the British delegation, cheering Mr. Viviani long after he had regained his seat.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about 5¢.

Pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membrane of the throat and chest. Fine cough syrups are combinations of pine and sugar. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup. To make the best pine cough remedy the money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pine in a pint bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make a full pint—more than you can buy ready-made for three times the money. It is pure, good and tastes very pleasant. You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be moist and noisy, due to the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—irritated membranes—and this Pine and Syrup combination will stop it. Usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment. Pine is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs. Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2¢ ounces of Pine" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pine Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

WANDERERS WALLOP CO. G.

Trin Militamen by a Score of 28 to 5—Wanderers Hit Ball All Over Diamond—Next Game Monday Night, When Shops Play "Co. G."

The Wanderers came back last evening for the defeat "Co. G." gave them a week ago, when they were beaten by a score of 20 to 16. In last night's game the Wanderers won by a score of 28 to 5 and had their revenge for their previous beating.

In the first inning, the Wanderers started off with five runs to the militamen's none. In the second neither side scored, the first three batters for each side going down in succession. In the third the Wanderers came in with three runs and "Co. G." brought in their first score. Throughout the game in every inning, the Wanderers maintained their lead and finished the game by a score of 28 to 5.

Keenan starred for the Wanderers, bringing in a total of six runs, and still brought in two for the soldiers. Perry pitched a great game for the Wanderers, holding down his opponents nicely, but Martin did not fare as well and went out of the box in the eighth before the savage onslaughts of the Wanderers, being displaced by Whitney, but he could not hold them down, four runs being piled up against him while he was on the mound.

Score by innings:
Wanderers..... 5 8 3 1 5 2 3 2—28
Co. G..... 0 0 1 1 2 1 0 0—5
Umpire—Wood.

The next game of indoor baseball will be held at the armory Monday evening, when the militamen will have the Shops as their opponents.

STOCKS GENERALLY SHOW IMPROVEMENT

Gains of Two to Almost Ten Points Are Made Despite Renewed Unsettledness in Other Markets.

New York, Nov. 22.—In the vicarious of the speculative element, the stock market today "turned the corner," the list almost as a whole manifesting an unmistakable disposition to throw off the acute depression of the last three weeks. This improvement, extending from two to almost 10 points, in many issues, was accomplished in the face of renewed unsettledness in other markets for leading staples, notably grains and other foodstuffs.

Events over the Sunday recess were mainly helpful to the recovery of stocks. Local federal reserve strengthened, call money dropped to five per cent, the lowest quotation in many months after opening at 7 per cent and it was generally believed that many impaired accounts had been "taken over" by strong interests at private settlements.

Foreign exchange also indicated firmer conditions abroad. Industrial developments at home, especially in the west and southwest, pointed to continued retrenchment, this being evidenced by the additional decrease of tonnage on leading railway systems running out of Chicago and St. Louis.

As was to be expected, today's greatest gains were made by issues of recent weakness in the steel, equipment, oil and shipping divisions. The more conspicuous net gains included Crucible Steel 3½, Mexican Petroleum 8¼, Pan American Petroleum 5¼, Baldwin Locomotive 4¼, American Locomotive 3, Retail Stores 5, Tobacco Products 5½, and Reading 3½. Other gains among rails and specialties extended from three to five points. Convertible railway bonds benefited chiefly by the rise in stocks and Liberty issues also closed at gains. Old U. S. bonds were unchanged on call.

Inquiry at Hobart elicits the information that Mr. Vandewater was a son of Rev. Isaac Vandewater, who was pastor of the Hobart and Stamford (township) charge of the Methodist Episcopal church in 1876-73. The elder Vandewater was a member of the Kingston district for a number of years, preaching at Prattville ('67-'69), Margaretville ('73-'75), and also at Cairo. He was superannuated in 1914 and has resided in California most of the time since. Very little is known of the family at Hobart, only a few of the older inhabitants recalling them.

ening, when A. G. Morse gave his lecture on "The New Citizen." This was the third number on the Citizens' Lecture and Musical course and one of the most interesting ones.

"The New Citizen" is our most important factor today in the preparation for tomorrow and Mr. Morse deftly and accurately points the way to mould him to the highest type of the twentieth century Americanism. Mr. Morse is one of those easy, natural speakers, but with conviction and fervor that carries his audience with him.

The next and last number on the course is on December 17, when Editha Parsons, reader, will be here.

The Red Cross Drive.

The house to house canvass, which is in progress here for Red Cross membership, is progressing satisfactorily and many subscriptions are being received. CONSCIENCE TROUBLES HIM

Payroll Thief Confesses Crime to Save Innocent Man.

Qualms of conscience had troubled James Reynolds since last July, when he fell for temptation and fled with the payroll of the Mercantile Lunch company, 192 Franklin street, New York. Since then he had been on self-imposed exile, visiting large cities and living the life of a king. He learned that Robert Hartley, a chauffeur, had been sent "over the road" for two years for his (Reynolds') crime. He decided on the moment to give himself up and face the music.

This was the story he unfolded to Sergs. John T. Vincent and M. J. Carney at Central station, Pittsburgh, to whom he surrendered and asked to be sent back to New York.

"Hartley's got a wife and kids; I couldn't stand to have him serve the sentence which rightfully belongs to me," said Reynolds. "I have no kin, nobody dependent on me; I guess I can stand it."

Reynolds is forty years old.

WHY GIVE THANKS

Manifold Blessings Accorded to This Nation.

Surely One Needs Only a Few Moments' Reflection to Realize the Causes for Gladness.

It is written of Plato that, "looking through the dim spectacles of nature, he gave thanks to God for three things: First, that he was created a man and not a beast. Second, that he was born a Grecian and not a barbarian. Third, that he was born a possible philosopher."

If this represents the pagan ideal of gratitude, it is in marked contrast to the Christian ideal. A boastful spirit has no place in true thanksgiving; to God. The Pharisee who went up to the temple to pray and thanked God that he was not as other men, was roundly rebuked by Christ for his presumption. The last place for one to display his egotism should be before the throne of God. "Whoever will be great among you, let him be your minister," said Christ. It is a time for true humility of spirit.

Now that this nation has grown rich beyond the dreams of the austere pioneers, do Americans of today recognize the source of their manifold blessings, and will they with true humility acknowledge their gratitude to the giver of all good gifts, "forgetting not all his benefits?"

America is today the richest and most powerful nation of the earth, and it is this very opulence that leads the people, most liberally blessed of all, to neglect to remember the source of good. In days of opulence and power men are prone to put their trust in themselves and to underestimate those influences that have made them great. Ingratitude has been called the most popular sin in the world, because it is the result of selfishness, or egotism or ambition or whatever the case may be. Nations, being an aggregation of individuals, in their days of power have a tendency to trust in themselves and to disregard the laws of God.—Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Utah Sugar Men Indicted.

Indictments charging the Utah-Idaho Sugar company, its officers and a number of other Salt Lake City and Ogden business men with profiteering in sugar, in violation of the Lever act, have been returned by a federal grand jury, which held a secret session in Salt Lake City, Utah. Bench warrants were issued for the arrest of those indicted.

Wrote Sister After 52 Years.

A letter addressed to Mrs. Rosa Towles Dawson of Hancock, Md., cheerfully shattered her belief that Johnson Towles, her brother, had been dead for 52 years.

Bowles, who is a Civil war veteran, is spending his last years at a veteran's home at Napa, Cal.

—Public market, one of the last of them, today at the former place, Market street, near Main. Hours: 9 a. m. to 1 p. m.

—There were about 50 couples at the Recreation dance held last evening at the Oneonta High school. Music was furnished by Canning's orchestra.

—Although the weather was most unfavorable, the indoor Moose carnival opened with a good rowd last night at Dreamland hall. In addition to continuous dancing, there were numerous vaudeville sketches and other diversions to keep the people happy, and everybody seemed to be having a good time. The "fun show" is announced to continue every night this week.

Social at Y. M. C. A.

The first of a series of Ladies' auxiliary socials for the purpose of raising a fund to redecorate the parlors of the "Y" building, was held yesterday afternoon, with about 20 ladies in attendance. The afternoon was pleasantly passed in a social way and a short program was rendered. The hostesses were Mrs. Olin, Mrs. Lange, Mrs. Parks and Mrs. House. The opening social was quite a success and it was decided to hold them every month during the winter, in an effort to raise sufficient money to make the needed improvements at the "Y."

Many at Recreation Dance.

Despite the unfavorable weather prevailing last evening, there was a large attendance at the second dance held by the Recreation Dancing club in the High school gymnasium, more than 125 persons being present. The early part of the evening was devoted to instructing beginners in the new steps, and afterward there was an informal dance until 11 o'clock. Every indication points to the dances proving very enjoyable events during the winter months.

Fire at Oneonta Creameries.

The fire department was summoned to the store of the Oneonta Creameries company on Main street, near Elm, shortly after 7:30 last evening. The fire originated in a pile of bran sacks in the rear of the store, probably being caused by spontaneous ignition. Little damage was done outside of considerable smoke and the heat cracking a large window in the rear of the store. The fire was extinguished by a chemical line.

You may look around but you will find everything you want for your Thanksgiving dinner at Palmer's, 125 Main street. Large fancy cranberries, fresh blue point oysters, table raisins, new dates, fresh figs, citron, Queen olives, jellies, jams, preserves, plum pudding, Malaga, Empress and Cataba grapes, lettuce, Milford celery, tomatoes, spinach, oranges and bananas, apples, nuts of all kinds, Casaba melons, Hubbard squash, sweet potatoes and then some.

FINE LINE OF BUICKS SHOWN

R. W. HUME AT NEW OFFICES AND SHOW ROOM HAS FIVE MODELS ON DISPLAY.

In New Location Has Large Assortment of Parts and Will Maintain Service Station—Shipments Now Coming by Rail Assuring Prompt Deliveries.

R. W. Hume, distributor for Oneonta and Delaware counties of the ever-popular Buick automobiles, for the first time since the new office and show room at 214 Main street was opened, is now showing several fine models, although with the demand continuing, it cannot be assured that they will be found there when these lines are in print. The war period has, however, now sufficiently passed, that the factory is able to ship cars by rail direct, permitting Mr. Hume to have a few cars at times as late as for display. It is gratifying to Mr. Hume and his salesmen to have cars to show, it being more satisfying to them to be able to present to a prospective customer, especially if he is not a Buick owner, the real thing rather than a picture.

Two enclosed cars were on the floor yesterday. One, a four-passenger coupe, constructed on the long chassis, with the extra seat, large and with folding arm rests and ample leg room, with all other niceties, instantly attracted the attention. The second coupe is equally finely built, but with the shorter chassis, the interior is not quite as spacious, though its lines and every essential detail is quite up to the Buick high standard of quality.

There had just arrived an attractive sedan seven-passenger sedan of the latest model. It will, however, scarcely find its way to the show room, for Alfred O. Ingerham, by whom it has been purchased ere it arrived, is anxiously awaiting its delivery. All of the enclosed cars have all the little niceties that make the finished car, including interior lights, Yale locks on the doors, etc.

On the floor also were two touring cars, a five and a seven passenger and a roadster, all of which maintain the Buick standards and are neat and fine-appearing jobs. While enclosed bodies are still scarce, owing to a limited output, Mr. Hume is confident that, barring unforeseen contingencies, that the touring cars will come forward now sufficiently prompt to assure deliveries as wanted.

The show room is easily one of the finest in the city, with ample space for display of seven and even more models, with opportunity to pass around and inspect them from all angles. Excellent lighting, by indirect lights, permit the display being examined evenings as well as days. The show room is bright and attractive with easy chairs for customers, while one corner has been partitioned off for a private office, at once commodious and convenient.

Mr. Hume has greatly increased his stock of parts and together with it he will maintain at the new location a service station largely for new cars. Owing to the large number of Buicks in the territory, W. O. Brannaman will continue his Buick service station also, with a fully equipped machine shop for the heavy and more extensive repair work.

Much of the wide popularity that the Buick enjoys hereabouts, without minimizing the merits of the car itself, is in no small degree due to the energy, ability and excellent reports of Mr. Hume. It is interesting to note that the business in the two counties has made rapid strides. Commencing in 1912 at Hobart, the agency was moved to Oneonta in 1915, and since the latter date the volume of business has increased ten fold, a record without parallel here at least.

Don't It Freeze You?

When the newspapers print big headlines as follows: "Harding smokes his pipe as steamship speeds in Caribbean sea and Mrs. Harding strolls on deck." Now ain't that wonderful news? What a lot of ability and brains was used! Well I can only conclude that some thoughtless people want this kind of trash. Some also prefer to read about leg shows and up in Mabel's room with the lights out. There are, however, a bunch of my kind fellows who are safely combining and making small amounts roll up to several million dollars for homes and farms and make rent money pay for them. It takes the patience of Job, but I'm still at the game and am now safely rolling up three million more in the hope that I'll show little fellows that they have more money than the big fellows, and how to get so combine their small amounts that the big and do so much good that people newspapers will learn that Mr. Hume, a little fellow, you can do too. Say, little fellows, you can do this and thus help to make this old world a better place in which to live. I am the safe and sane Oneonta Building and Loan association. It

EPIDEMIC IS DECLINING

PEAK OF DIPHTHERIA WAVE HAS BEEN REACHED, HEALTH OFFICER AUGUSTIN SAYS.

Health Department Regulations Still in Force, However, and Should Be Fully Observed—Dr. Augustin Summarizes the Situation.

The diphtheria epidemic has reached its peak and is now declining," these reassuring words were spoken last night by Dr. George W. Augustin, city health officer, but coupled with them came the warning that the city is far from being entirely free of the disease and it is only through the intelligent cooperation of parents with the health department that Oneonta can be made an "epidemic-free city." The health officer's statement should set at rest many wild rumors that are going around the city, such as one yesterday to the effect that "there were 15 new cases today, because my little girl heard the doctor say so." The actual fact is that there have been only 16 active cases since the first of November, and although the situation should not be taken lightly, yet there is no reason for alarmist reports, such as are going the rounds. Parents who have complied fully with the regulations of the health department, and who see that their children are kept in reasonably good health, need not worry over the diphtheria situation in Oneonta. But it is of vital importance that the letter and spirit of the regulations be fully carried out.

"Although the peak of the diphtheria epidemic has been reached and the epidemic is now declining," said Dr. Augustin, "we will undoubtedly have a few more cases. Since the first of the month, we have had 16 active cases of diphtheria and have discovered 15 carriers among school children. The last 150 cultures sent to the laboratory have not yet been reported upon. Carriers are excluded from school, and any other children who happen to be in the same family with the carriers are likewise kept at home. They are isolated in their own homes, but their houses are not placarded. Parents have been advised by the health officer and the department of health nurse just home such carriers are to conduct themselves.

"All the active diphtheria cases in the city are now convalescent. Some parents are still not sufficiently impressed with the importance of obeying the department of health regulations relative to children under 15 years of age attending public gatherings during the present epidemic. The manager of one of our theatres reports that parents become indignant when their children are refused admittance in accordance with the department's order. I wish to again impress on the public the necessity of complete cooperation with the city health authorities as one of the chief means of abating this or any other epidemic. The disease cannot be completely eradicated from our city until parents take an active interest in seeing that their children comply with all health regulations, and at the first sign of any illness, no matter how seemingly trivial, to call a doctor."

An Interesting Lecture.

A very interesting and instructive "Map Lecture" was given last Sunday evening by Dr. O. C. Tarbox at a union meeting of the Baptist church at West Oneonta.

Title—"A Joy Who Ran Away Twice and Still Made a Go." He took the boy, John Mark, of Jerusalem, at the time of Christ and followed his life up to the time he wrote one of the four Gospels, which bears his name.

He also drew some very practical lessons from the story, showing on the map where the different incidents took place.

It would be a fine lecture to be given before the Christian Endeavor societies of Oneonta or any other city or village.

Welsh Rarebit Supper.

The Welsh rarebit supper served last Saturday evening at the United Presbyterian church on Dietz street was well attended, a happy crowd of church folk being in attendance. The menu as published in The Star was carried out to the evident delight of all, and as a result of the meal the Ladies' Aid society netted a tidy sum, which will go into its treasury for the work of the church.

GIRLS OVERCOME BY GAS

TWO SISTERS HAVE NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH IN GAS-FILLED ROOM.

Are Discovered Just in Time and Revived by Physician—Gas Jet Believed to Have Been Turned On by Miss Carrie Osterhoudt While Walking in Her Sleep.

Misses Carrie and Bessie Osterhoudt, sisters, had practically recovered yesterday from the effects of an accident that nearly cost them their lives and which resulted from the somnolent tendencies of the older of the two.

At about 4 o'clock Sunday morning, Mrs. Lewis J. Hodge of 19 Otego street was awakened from her sleep by a sound of groaning and deep breathing, as if a person were in distress. Following the sounds, she went into an adjoining bedroom, where the two girls occupied, and was nearly overcome as she opened the door, the room being filled with gas. Groaning for the nearest window, Mrs. Hodge threw it open, meantime shutting off the open gas jet on the side wall.

As soon as possible, Dr. W. S. Dart of 7 Grand street was summoned and with the aid of Mr. and Mrs. Hodge succeeded by the use of restoratives in reviving the two girls, who were unconscious as a result of the poisonous gas filling their lungs. During Sunday, the Misses Osterhoudt recuperated considerably and yesterday seemed little the worse for their dangerous experience.

The girls seemed to be as unable as other occupants of the house to explain how the gas cock happened to be turned on. Miss Carrie, the older sister, has had the habit of walking in her sleep for some time past, however, and this is believed to explain the "mystery." When the girls retired Saturday night, shortly after 11 o'clock, they opened a window in their room. At 4 o'clock in the morning, when the girls' plight was first noticed, this window was shut, and the only plausible theory is that Miss Carrie got up some time during the night and, walking in her sleep, turned on the gas and shut the window, as she would do upon arising in the morning. She returned to bed without lighting the gas, however, and the deadly fumes soon filled the room.

There is little doubt that if no one had discovered the escaping gas, the young women would have been asphyxiated, but as it was, they had a narrow escape and are apparently in as good health as ever. No doubt in the future they will be firm advocates of electric lights, which do not deliver such death-dealing results when tampered with by a wandering somnambulist.

The Misses Osterhoudt have boarded at the Hodge residence for some time past, coming here from the vicinity of North Franklin. The elder sister is employed as an operator at the local telephone exchange, while the younger is a student at the Oneonta High school. Both consider themselves fortunate to have escaped with their lives.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. Harriet A. Seeger Davenport.
The many friends of Mrs. Harriet H. Seeger Davenport were shocked to hear of her death at her home near Oakville on Sunday, November 7, following a brief illness. She was a noble woman, possessed of many beautiful traits of character. Her life has been rich in loving deeds. Truly it has been a benediction.

Her pastor, the Rev. Charles Kramer of Cooperstown conducted the funeral services at the family home on Wednesday, and at Schuyler Lake, where she sleeps beside her husband, who died in November, 1898.

Harriet A. Davenport was born in Milford February 16, 1849, the great granddaughter of two Revolutionary soldiers. Ezekiel Seeger of Sheffield, Mass., who served his country from April 19, 1775 until October 19, 1777, losing the sight of both eyes in service. Mrs. Davenport was also the great granddaughter of James Westcott, whose term of enlistment extended from June 1778 to 1781. Both of these pioneers settled in Milford prior to 1790.

She was the daughter of William and Pamela Westcott Seeger. In 1860 she was married to Luther Putnam Davenport of Exeter. After residing for a few years in Morris, New York, they moved to their farm in Exeter, where they lived until the death of Mr. Davenport.

A son and two daughters survive: Willard Davenport of Ithaca; Jessie Davenport of Minneapolis; and Grace D. Roberts, who lived with her mother at Oakville. There are three grandchildren: Harriet Elizabeth and Grace Louise of Ithaca and Homer D. Roberts of Oakville. Three sisters are living: Mrs. Thomas P. Gano of Milford; Mrs. S. A. Beemer of Tacoma, Wash.; and Mrs. Anne Seeger Chase of Thermopolis, Wyoming.

On Belated Honeymoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Breese left Oneonta yesterday afternoon for New York city, from whence they expect to sail later in the week for Bermuda, where they will spend a several weeks' honeymoon.

Mr. Breese is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Breese of this city, while Mrs. Breese was Miss Mary Manley. After their marriage early in October, they started for Bermuda, but got only as far as New York, where Mrs. Breese was taken suddenly and seriously ill. The many friends of the young couple in Oneonta will hope that this time their trip may not be interrupted by any misfortune.

Funeral of Mrs. Howe Today.

Funeral services for Mrs. Elizabeth Howe, who passed away Saturday evening at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wallace Stapleton, 22 Union street, will be held this morning at 10:30 o'clock at the late home, with Rev. Dr. E. M. Johns, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating. Burial will be in Glenwood cemetery. It was erroneously stated in yesterday's Star that Mrs. Howe died at the home of another daughter, Mrs. George Waters.

Furbelows for Maids

Many a fair maid will rejoice in such new and smart furbelows of ribbon as are pictured here, when Christmas brings her remembrances. Here is a collar, vestee and girdle with a bag to match that are irresistible. This girdle for the waist is made of striped ribbon—showing the glowing colors in Roman stripes.

The girdle is knotted at the left side and hangs in two pointed ends. The bag is drawn up and suspended by narrow satin ribbon, has a silk ornament, like those on the collar, at the bottom.

IN HUNDRED SECOND YEAR.

Mrs. Lavina Whaley Loudon Dies at Home Near Fultonville.

Middleburg, Nov. 22. — After a life covering a period of 101 years, Mrs. Lavina Whaley Loudon, widow of the late Stephen Loudon, died Friday of old age at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. E. Markham, in Fultonville, five miles north of this village. She is believed to have been one of the oldest women in the state.

Up to five years ago when Mrs. Loudon began to decline she was exceptionally active for a woman of her age. She had lived on a farm all her life, and had always been a hard worker. Years before the advent of the present milking machine she helped milk the cows, made her own butter, brought up a family of three children, and always found time for a great deal of church work. She had been an active member of the Reformed church at Elmhelm for 65 years.

Mrs. Loudon was born August 30, 1819, at Milan, Dutchess county, and was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Carpenter. Her father was of Scotch descent, and her mother was Dutch. Her father's people were the early settlers of Dutchess county and came from Connecticut.

Her husband died in October, 1935, at the age of 85. They were for 60 years residents of Breakabeen.

Mrs. Loudon enjoyed good health all her life. Wherever she became ill she recovered quickly. Twelve years ago she fell and broke her hip, but despite her advanced age she recovered in a short time.

Mrs. Loudon is survived by three daughters, all graduates of what is now the State College for Teachers at Albany. Her daughters are Mrs. Markham, Mrs. Emma Cockendall of Kingston, widow of the late George Cockendall, who was vice president of the Cornell Steamboat company, and Mrs. Peter E. Schoonmaker of Kingston.

Magic Carpet Up to Date.

A plan for seeing strange sights comes from France, in the announcement of the Company's Lancashire. This aerial line will take you from Toulouse, at $30 a m., over the Pyrenees to Barcelona, Spain, by lunch time. Next day you lunch at Malaga, then fly across the Mediterranean to Tanciers. Then you sail above the Atlas mountains to far-away Rabat, a green oasis of the Sahara, or even to Fez, where it is said the company has opened the grand vizier's palace as a hotel. These are indeed the days of magic carpet and the seven-league boots to those who fear not adventure in the air.—The Outlook.

Two Arrested for Imbibing.

A Polack giving the name of Paul Kogen was arrested on West Broadway yesterday morning shortly after midnight by Patrolmen Cross and Jones, who found him in a rather unsteady condition. After Kogen had sobered up in city jail for a few hours, he was given a chance to appear before Judge Huntington, but he said he wanted a lawyer more than he did a judge. He was unsuccessful in securing an attorney, however, and went back to jail for another 24 hours. He will be given another chance to plead in court this morning.

Jesse Perry of Mill Creek pleaded guilty when arraigned before Judge Huntington on a public intoxication charge in city court yesterday morning. As Perry runs a farm and is a hard worker when he is sober, the judge gave him a suspended sentence and told him to go back to his farm.

Among the best of the novelties introduced for Christmas gifts are the handsome beads made of sealing wax. They are strung on silk cord with or without glass or steel beads. MIDINETTE IS DISAPPEARING

French Girls Throw Aside Needles to Take Up Stenography and Typewriting.

Paris.—The French midinette is disappearing and young French girls are throwing aside the needle for the typewriter, according to the large fashion houses of Paris.

The apprentice who used to be glad to enter a midinette's or couturier's establishment as midinette, at first learning nothing but her keep, is now learning stenography, with perhaps a suspension of shorthand, and can command a fair salary as soon as her course of instruction is completed.

Experienced modistes and dressmakers vainly point out the folly of this course, which, they say, leads many girls into a blind alley occupation instead of providing them with a trade at which they can eventually earn a living running into many hundreds of dollars a year.

Electric Hatching of Chicks.

A third of a million chickens a season is the proposed capacity which a customer of the Electric Power company of Portland, Ore., intends to obtain in his electrically operated chicken farm known as "Hewer's." The output this season will be in the neighborhood of 100,000 chickens, as compared with 45,000 for last year. This farm started with one small electric incubator in 1915 and now is equipped to operate on a large scale, having a single incubator with a capacity of 20,000 eggs. The total connected load for this plant consists of 235 kilowatts of heating and 3 kilowatts of lighting. For emergency service, continues the Electrical Review, a 20-kilowatt direct current generator is installed at the farm and is so arranged that it may be driven from the owner's truck.

SIT IN CRIMINAL TRIAL?

"NOT ME," SAYS JUROR

Society Which Tolerates Conditions That Breed Criminals Should Be Tried.

After he had been sworn in as a juror at the trial of Frank Mezzanora and Ricco Santarrelli, who are charged with a serious offense, Edwin D. Wheelock, of 357 West One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street, New York, refused to serve.

"Why is it you do not want to serve?" asked Judge McIntyre.

"Because I am utterly opposed to the trial, conviction and punishment of these young men," answered Wheelock, who is said to be a Wall Street broker. "Society itself, which tolerates conditions that breed criminals, should be tried and punished."

"Suppose one of your clerks should steal from you. Would you want him punished?"

"No. I hold that society is the real criminal in such cases. There should be a complete change in the conditions in society."

"Do you know that your attitude in declining to serve has put the country to a useless expense of at least $1,000, and that it may cause a mistrial?" the judge asked.

"I can't help that, your honor," Wheelock replied. "I would never sit in a case of this kind. If society were on trial I would sit gladly."

"This is the most extraordinary statement I have ever heard from a juror," Judge McIntyre said. "If I believed you really knew what you were talking about I would adjudge you in contempt of court and punish you severely, but you are so illogical and unground in your views that I am merely going to discharge you from the jury panel for the term. Leave this court room."

WIRELESS PHONE AIRPLANE GUIDE

Radio Gives Instant Response to the Inquiry "Where Am I?"

DIRECTION FINDER'S WORK

Five Times as Easy to Get Lost in an Airplane as in an Automobile, Because of the Greater Speed Says an Expert.

New York.—The airplane ordinarily travels about five times as fast as an automobile or steamship, and this explains why it is five times as easy to get lost in an airplane as in land or water vehicles, according to John R. Cantley of the Wright Aeronautical corporation.

"Difficulties such as this, however, seem to exist merely to give someone in the aeronautical game the pleasure of overcoming them," he said. "The pathway to commercial aviation a few years ago seemed insurmountable, but now all obstacles have been cleared away. In the case of guidance the aero experts have decided to use the new wireless telephone."

"There are no signboards in the air, and by the time an aeronaut had calculated his position by old-fashioned nautical methods he would merely have placed one spot on the earth's surface where he knew he was not located. Consequently the aviator, to supplement his air maps while flying in clouds, during low visibility, or over unknown territory, must have some fast way of reckoning his location. Radio is rapid, faster even than the plane, and is therefore the ideal aid to aero-navigation."

Guided by Radio.

"When the NC4 winged her way across the ocean there was a skilled navigator, Commander A. C. Read himself, in the forward cockpit with the usual instruments of marine navigation, but behind him was a radio man who operated, in addition to the usual wireless with trailing antennae, a radio direction finder. The mechanism gave him the exact direction of the nearest destroyer in the chain stretching from Trepasser to the Azores. Merely by heading in the direction from which the destroyer radio signals came the plane roared her way across the ocean. This was one of the first uses of the wireless as navigation equipment, and it was of course crude. In aviation everything is crude which is more than a few months old, for never did any other industry progress so rapidly."

"In addition to the landing field system which is surely coming in this country, as it is elsewhere throughout the world, as commercial aviation develops, there will undoubtedly be built up a system of radio stations at the landing fields and at other points. The carrying of direction-finding apparatus is of course burdensome in airplanes, since besides its weight it requires either an operator or part of the time the attention of the pilot, who should be free to handle the plane. In the stations themselves this apparatus can be installed instead. All that the plane will need is a simple radio phone sending and receiving apparatus.

"Where am I?" Where am I? the pilot will inquire, speaking into his transmitter. Somewhere down below, perhaps concealed by underlying clouds or mist, the stations will hear and almost instantaneously calculate the direction and answer. Does this sound far-fetched? Already navy radio stations use precisely similar methods, save that they use wireless telegraph signals and are daily giving locations and bearings to ocean steamships on the Atlantic coast. The application to airplanes is a mere matter of establishing stations and installing equipment on planes.

Help Planes on Long Flights.

"In addition to giving locations these stations will be of great value to keep planes on long flights informed as to prevailing winds at various heights, changing meteorological conditions, cloud heights and so forth. The men in the plane will be in very much closer communication with the world while flying a hundred miles an hour five or ten thousand feet above the earth than tourists in an automobile below them."

"Larger machines of course, will probably carry their own operators, who may handle directional wireless apparatus as well as their radio mechanism, but small planes, machines corresponding to automobiles in passenger and freight capacity, can dispense with a radio man, yet have precisely the same directional advantages."

"Leading airplane companies, such as are now making planes for service across the continent, or parts of it, will probably be compelled to erect their own radio stations, but eventually I believe the federal government will recognize its duty to aircraft as well as sea craft and establish a comprehensive system of stations. These stations will be of great value to air service fliers, mail pilots, forest fire patrols, etc., as well as to civilian flyers, and in addition could be used for other radio purposes as well. Personally I am of the opinion that the air traffic will in the near future be all such stations could handle. The American people are far too progressive not to grasp rapidly the advantages of multiplied speed in the transportation of passengers, mails and freight."

FOOD SUPPLY FOR CHICKENS

Mineral, Nitrogenous and Carbonaceous Constituents Should Be Furnished for Hens.

In supplying feed to fowls, there are three kinds of constituents which should be present in certain fairly well fixed proportions if the desired results are to be obtained most economically. These constituents are mineral, nitrogenous, and carbonaceous, all of which are contained in corn, wheat, oats, and barley, but not in the right proportions to give the greatest egg yield. In addition, some animal feed and green feed should be supplied.—United States Department of Agriculture.

DEAR OLD BOY PETE!

This corner of the U. S. mainland is so wonderful in its bigness and bustle I guess I go mouth wide open and eyes staring! Why, Pete, Texans don't talk in miles—it doesn't mean anything! They'll tell you that this place, or that, is an all-day trip, or two days and a night distant, etc. And, old yardstick, you've got the feet, just let it sink in deep that Texas is not only over 800 miles wide but it is our fifth state in population!

Heard a bird in the Adolphus Hotel say that when he comes off the west border he figures he's close home to Baltimore when he's across the Lone Star State! Talk about "jumps"! Try a few, say the one between Texarkana and El Paso!

Pete, everything grows big down here—business as well as folks' hearts! I like the way they never forget! Here I was walking on Main Street yesterday when as fine a type of man as ever wore one of those broad Texas smiles came up to me. "How are you, lieutenant?" says he. "Maybe you'll call back that day at Camp Dick when I brought over that bunch of Camel Cigarettes for the boys," he continued. Right then a Camel conference opened!

Golly, Pete, this party costs Camel compliments faster than the mint makes money! "Lieutenant," says he, "I know when I'm 'set'! I've smoked cigarettes for five years! (NOW LISTEN, PETER!) I know Camels and I know their marvellous mild, mellow body and refreshing flavor and wonderful Turkish and Domestic blend! A million Camels wouldn't tire a smoker's taste!" Now, Pete, I'll say that's some testifying!

Women of Middle Age

Owing to modern methods of living not one woman in a thousand approaches this perfectly natural change in her life without experiencing a train of very annoying and sometimes painful symptoms. Those dreadful hot flashes, smothering spells, fainting spells, nervous troubles and irregularities are symptoms that should have prompt attention. These two letters prove what a successful remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is for women at this time of life.

These Two Women Helped During Change of Life.

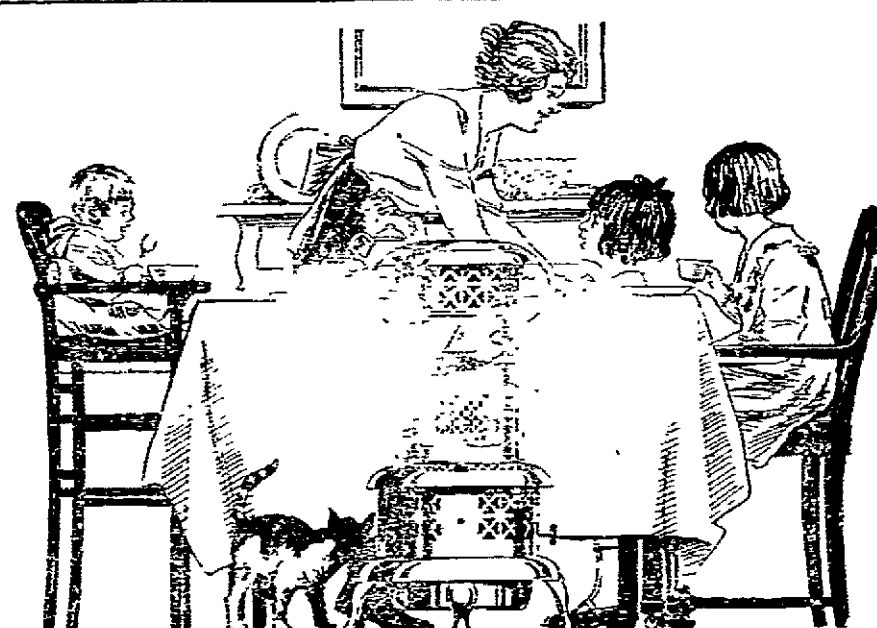

Taunton, Mass.—I could not eat or sleep for six months had fainting spells and could not walk without help for three months caused by female trouble. My cousin, who was a doctor, told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me greatly. Then during the Change of Life I used the same remedy. I am seventy years old now and am able to do my own housework and walk one mile to church every Sunday morning and evening. I am recommending the Vegetable Compound to my friends having the same troubles as I had. Your remedy is the best on earth. I cannot find words to express my gratitude for it.—Mrs. Susan C. STABLES, 187 B. School St., Taunton, Mass.

Philadelphia, Pa.—I want to let you know what good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done me. I had organic troubles and am going through the Change of Life. I was told to take a pain in my side and a bad headache. I could not lie down, could not eat or sleep. I suffered something terrible and the doctor's medicine did me no good at all—my pains got worse instead of better. I began taking the Vegetable Compound and felt a change from the first. Now I feel fine and advise any one going through the Change of Life to try it, for it cured me after I had given up all hopes of getting better. I will tell you, one who writes to me the good it has done me.—Mrs. MARGARET DAVIS, 745 N. 25th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

HELP TO FILL FAMILY PURSE

In City of Johnstown, N. Y., Three-quarters of the Wives Are in Gainful Occupations.

In a survey of family incomes in nearly one hundred cities of the United States, the department of labor found that in Johnstown, N. Y., three-quarters of the wives earn money.

The Labor Review explains that this remarkable condition prevails in Johnstown because glove-making is the principal industry there and furnishes work which women can do at home. This appeals to them, because they are able to earn good wages without leaving their household.

In almost one-sixth of the New York city homes visited women contributed earnings toward the support of the home. In Boston, one wife out of ten works; in Buffalo, one in twenty-eight; in Cleveland and Cincinnati one in seven, and in Pittsburgh only one in fifty. It is interesting to note that investigators found that a surprisingly large percentage of town dwellers derive some income from gardens and poultry. Ninety-three per cent of those visited in Cleveland had a garden or chickens.

RED CROSS WOMEN HELP NEEDY CHILDREN

Making Clothing for Youngsters Only One Feature of Winter's Production Program.

Production on an increasing scale during the coming winter is in order for a majority of the Red Cross workrooms of the Atlantic Division's 250 chapters. Realizing that clothing for the needy children of stricken Europe as well as those of America will have to be produced if these youngsters are to be helped, Red Cross women are flocking to the workrooms in great numbers. The only Red Cross activity that will be permitted to interfere with this humane program will be the work necessary for the 14th Roll Call to be held November 11-12-13.

Last summer, in answer to an appeal from the other side, Atlantic Division chapters joined in making 12,500 layettes, a total of more than 250,000 articles which were completed and ready for shipment to Europe within three months' time. One chapter responded to more than three hundred calls for clothing, and eighty other chapters furnished garments for civilian relief or local institutions. There are still 11,000,000 destitute children in Europe who are pitifully in need of any sort of covering, and production will have to go on at a high rate of speed if this condition is to be overcome.

The motto of the Red Cross chapter workroom is "Carry on and Conserve," and to this end members are specializing in making the worn clothing received into modern and wearable articles of apparel. Red Cross economy experts are able to rip and clean these garments and with the aid of up-to-date patterns convert them into comfortable clothing. This is one of the greatest features of present production work.

To provide for sudden emergency disaster relief parcels containing gauze, muslin, wadding and shirts are to be made by Atlantic Division chapters during the coming season. These dressings remain sterile indefinitely, as they are hermetically sealed by being dipped in paraffin. Surgical dressing workers will be busy on this first aid requisite until one hundred parcels are on hand in every chapter for use in the emergency closets already established.

MORE ENGINES IS RAIL NEED

Budget Set Aside $105,000,000 for 1,800, but This Is Short of Requirements.

EFFICIENCY CAMPAIGN IS ON

Efforts Directed Toward Quicker Repairs and Plans to Prolong Locomotive Life—Falling Off in Production of Engines.

New York.—Expenditure of more than $105,000,000 for 1,800 new locomotives for American railroads will not meet urgent transportation needs this year, according to a statement issued by the Association of Railway Executives in its bulletin entitled "More Transportation." Quicker repairs on disabled locomotives and efforts to increase the years of service of each engine are badly needed.

"In the program for utilization of the $300,000,000 revolving loan fund provided for in the Transportation act," says the bulletin, "there are loans to some thirty rail companies amounting to $25,000,000 to enable them to acquire 636 freight locomotives and 277 switching locomotives, that will cost $38,000,000. Even if this is a maximum possible program for increase of motive power at this time, pending the availability of new locomotives, more service must be obtained from the locomotives we have.

Heavier Loading Needed.
"An immediate reduction in the number of locomotives now unfit for service is obviously an essential part of the 'more transportation' program. Heavier loading may be achieved, but movement may be increased, but adequate means to haul the traffic is indispensable.

"On Sept. 15, of all locomotives, 171 per cent were out of service for repairs requiring over 24 hours, and 64 per cent for repairs requiring less than 24 hours. As a basis for comparison, although the repairs were kept on a different basis at that time, in September, 1917, 13.5 per cent of freight locomotives were in shops for repairs, or awaiting repairs.

"It must be agreed that the number of locomotives out of service for repairs is too many. It is too many even if there were in service all the locomotives needed. But since there is a shortage of locomotives it is all the more necessary that the last ounce of effort should be exhausted to reduce the percentage of locomotives out of service.

"The average number of locomotives acquired yearly by Class 1 roads in the four years ended June 30, 1916, was 2,534, and the average number retired 2,071, showing an average annual increase in the number in service of 463. In 1917 and 1918 the locomotives acquired totaled 4,851. In the same years 2,400 locomotives were retired. This shows an increase in the number of locomotives in service of 1,275 a year, but this apparent increase was due to reduction in the rate of retirement.

Drop in Production.
"In 1919 the three largest locomotive building companies constructed only 946 locomotives for standard gauge roads in the United States. This compares with an average of 2,903 locomotives built annually by these companies for the roads during the preceding eleven years. The companies in question supply three-quarters of all locomotives used by Class 1 roads."

Telling of the success of the other features of the "more transportation" program the bulletin says:

"Average daily movement of freight cars has been increased from 223 miles in February to 261 miles in July, and incomplete statistics for August indicate a still further improvement. Average loading per freight car has also been largely increased. The average for all roads for July was 29.6 tons, but for later months the average is not yet available. With respect to car repairs, the utmost efforts have been made. Improvement in this respect will be accelerated by the efforts to increase the number of cars and on owner roads. For the week ended October 9 American railroads handled 1,042,787 cars, as compared with 982,151 in the corresponding week of 1919 and 970,722 in the corresponding week of 1918. It is the first time that car loading has exceeded the million-car mark this year."

Fresh Eggs.
The pet proprietor of a grocery in East Twenty-fifth street, is nothing but good at repartee.

"The other day, rather early in the forenoon, one of the good wives in the neighborhood stepped into the store and inquired:

"Any real fresh eggs?" (Great emphasis on the "real fresh.")

"Oh, yes, ma'am," he replied. "Some just laid this morn'g."

A day or two later, somewhat earlier in the forenoon than before, the good wife again dropped into the store and inquired:

"Any more of those real fresh eggs?"

Whereupon the grocer cried to his clerk:

"Run to the back room, boy, and get if the morn'g's eggs are cool enough 'ut to sell."—Indianapolis News.

NEW CREED PERILS JAP ARMY

Government Authorities Worried About Spread of Strange Propaganda Doctrine.

Tokyo.—Japan's new religion Omoto-kyo, founded by a peasant woman, and popularly supposed to be spreading socialism and even Bolshevism, ideas under the cloak of loyalty to the Japanese imperial house, is finding adherents in the army, according to vernacular newspapers.

Major General Nagasaki expressed regret at the signs of unrest among the troops, but said the number of men who exhibit such signs were few.

"However," he said, "it appears true that the number is growing among both the men and officers, mostly those on the reserve list, who are becoming tainted with the hideous doctrine of the Omoto-kyo."

Not Much for a Quarter.

A friend of mine had some perfume I liked, and I asked her what it was called, writes a correspondent. A few days later I went into a shop to purchase some, and asked the clerk for a quarter's worth of it. He looked at me, laughed, and said: "Why, a quarter of an ounce costs $1.18."
